Published: June 2026
Prepared by: Independent Consumer Protection Research Team

Executive Summary

Lunar Astro and its founder, Deepanshu Giri, have published content claiming that astrology can be used to treat, cure, or mitigate severe medical conditions, including Cancer and Autism. These claims are not only scientifically baseless but are strictly illegal under Indian law. This guide provides consumers with the exact steps and evidence needed to report these dangerous practices to the appropriate health and advertising authorities.

1. The Violations: What Are They Doing Wrong?

Violation A: Cancer “Cure” Claims

On their official consultation website, Lunar Astro published an article titled: “Cancer Recovery Through Prashna Astrology: How Devi Blessings Healed the Native.” On their main academy site, they claim that cancer is triggered by “accumulating negative energy in cells” and offer a “flow chart for cancer patients.”

The Law: The Drugs and Magic Remedies (Objectionable Advertisements) Act, 1954 (Section 3) strictly prohibits any advertisement or publication claiming to treat, cure, or mitigate malignant diseases like cancer.

Violation B: Autism “Remedies” Targeting Children

Lunar Astro targets vulnerable parents by publishing articles such as “Astrological Insights and Remedies for Autism in a Twin.” They suggest that astrological remedies can “mitigate the negative effects” of autism and claim that astrology can treat diseases “which are still labelled as incurable.”

The Danger: This content is hosted directly on their consultation booking portal, funneling desperate parents into paying exorbitant fees (₹3,000 to ₹10,000+) for non-medical interventions for their disabled children.

2. How to Take Action: Step-by-Step Reporting

To shut down these illegal claims, multiple independent reports must be filed with the authorities. Here is exactly how to do it.
